Re: Photo Op

A series of emails exchanged between Midwest Regional Committee of Magic members, and their proteges.

Subject: Photo Op

Good afternoon,

Next Monday the humans are holding a grand opening for the wildlife preserve that the Curia Cloisters bought and donated to the city of Magiford. The human mayor requested that a few Curia Cloister representatives attend the opening ceremony.

I think we all should attend as this is a splendid opportunity to show the benefits supernaturals can do for the human community. Also, the city newspaper is sending reporters, so this will be a photo op, which would be a wise public relations move for us at this time.

Please consider attending, and reply if you mean to come,
Thank you,
Elite Bellus

Wait, we donated an entire park? How much did that cost?
Also, I already told you I never use that stupid RCOM email since it got released in the Curia Cloister newsletter and now it's overrun with emails from the public. Use my personal email, aka, this one.

K thx

Relax, tightwad. The werewolves and shifters owned the land, they donated it to the Cloisters, and a few fae Cloister employees worked on the land to improve its growth and fauna and whatever useless things fae care about.

I will not be attending. I don't care about humans and PR with them.

Adept Medeis, you cannot bring House Medeis work to Regional Committee of Magic meetings. And Queen Leila and Your Eminence, I'm aware public relations is not typically an enjoyable experience, but for the sake of the supernatural society as a whole, I would like for us to all be polite to one another, please, and avoid unnecessary antagonism that could have city wide repercussions.
